the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1 million (Office of National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 85 and over has increased by 300,000 in the same period.

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a strategy for the future of health care for older people. The strategy is based on the principle that older people should be able to live in their own homes for as long as possible, and that health care should be provided in a way that is appropriate to their needs. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- Older people should be able to live in their own homes for as long as possible.
- Health care should be provided in a way that is appropriate to the needs of older people.
- Older people should be able to access health care services when they need them.
- Older people should be able to participate in decisions about their health care.

NorthWood Coming Together

NorthWood, young and alive, trying to find its place in the world, trying to find its place in the world of sports. NorthWood, students, teachers and community joining hands to help others help themselves, splitting into separate political parties, re-joining to celebrate the defeat of a rival school.

Teachers finding students willing to work with ideas flowing through their minds, teachers finding students willing to open doors to knowledge. Teachers planting seeds of wisdom hoping for maturity, freshmen finding those "hidden" doors to classrooms, taking new experiences into the future.

Coaches finding new ways to inspire teams to victory, cheerleaders finding forgotten spirit, triumphs appearing in the midst of troubles, everyone finding satisfaction in a year well spent, reaping the benefits of seeds well sown and finding ways for all to get together with each other.

The class of 1973 received their diplomas Sunday, May 27, in a combination of Baccalaureate and Commencement. After the traditional processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," the Reverend Phillip Philbrook addressed the class. Lilac and light blue were chosen as class colors with purple carnations as the class flowers. The seniors chose two mottos, "Ours Is The Promise Of Today" and "KEEP ON TRUCKIN."

Homecoming Festivities

The fourth annual Homecoming at NorthWood High School was again sponsored by the Student Council.

During the halftime program presented by the marching band, Paul Schrock, Student Council President, crowned Ronda Bemiller 1972-73 Homecoming Queen.

Prior to Homecoming, underclassmen selected an attendant to represent each class. The seniors elected three queen candidates and later the entire student body chose the Queen from these three girls.

Several clubs competed with the classes in making floats to promote the theme, "Reach for Your Goal."

Queen candidates, Linda Sellers, Anita Ehret, and Ronda Bemiller anxiously await the announcement of the new Queen.

Drama Club Produces

The NorthWood Drama Club produced three plays this year instead of the usual two. In addition to the fall and spring productions, "An Evening of Melodramas" was added in January. This gave a change of pace for the club members as well as the audience. The fall production was "Flowers for Algernon" and "The Yankee Doodle" was performed in the spring.

Many long hours of practice and much patience go together to make a production. Not only are actors needed, but students help with directing also. The backstage work is done by hard working students not performing.

NorthWood High's baseball team started out the season with a 7-10 record up to the sectional. With the summer season, our Panthers started out winning 5 of their first 6 games. Leading the team were Captains John Rouch and Phil Lechlitrner. Most Valuable Player went to Bill Schuller and Bill Kurtz. Of the sixteen members, 8 were lost to graduation. Six returning lettermen will form the backbone of our next baseball season. The Panthers concluded the season with an overall 14-23 win-loss record.

On the wrestling squad there were two tournament winners. Ron Golden won the Goshen Invitational and the Elkhart Sectional in the 135 pound class. Randy Bricker was the conference champ at 100 pounds. Most of this year's squad will be back with only one senior, Dewayne Lemler, graduating. The Panthers had more experience, but still suffered a losing season of 4-8. They came on strong in the late part of the season during the tournaments.

Linksmen Drive for Good Year

NorthWood's golf team this season returns two lettermen from last year's team. These two lettermen are Karl Kindig and Blake Hepler. Kindig was last season's winner of the low average trophy and the fewest putts trophy. The 1973 linksmen under the direction of Coach Gerber will be attempting to improve on the 1972 record of 8-10. The Panthers play their home matches at the South Shore golf course in Syracuse.

ACADEMICS

Career Center Extends Knowledge of Students

Many students from NorthWood attended the Elkhart Career Center this year, in both the afternoon and the morning sessions. Students may attend the career center either one or two years depending upon the course that they take. Students going to the career center learn job skills and are prepared for a job in their field immediately after graduation.

Students Learn Farm Methods

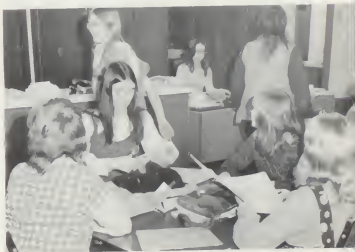

Four years of vocational agriculture are offered at NorthWood High School. In first year agriculture students learn the basic principles of raising swine, beef, sheep, small grain, and corn. Students also become involved with F.F.A. during their FRESHMAN year. During the second year of agriculture the basic principles of raising forage crops and dairy animals are discussed. Third year agriculture students learn about agricultural production, agricultural management, and agricultural math. Fourth year agriculture students learn about farm management, farm laws, and farm finance. Students taking vocational agriculture are prepared to enter many fields in agriculture.

Home Ec. Changes Face

Home economics at NorthWood is much more than just cooking and sewing. Freshmen study consumer education and interpersonal relationships. Home-ec II students cook in their foods and nutrition class, and sew in their clothing and textiles class. Third year home-ec students take child development and family economics. Seniors have a choice of one of four one-semester courses. These are creative clothing, creative cooking, creative housing, and family living. Boys may take bachelor economics during their junior or senior year. Home economics courses have much to offer to all students. They help students learn about their environment, and how to get along with other people.

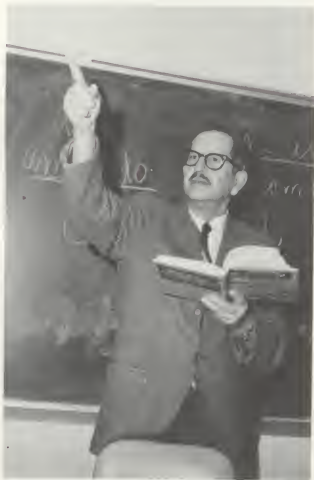

English Aids Students in Self-expression

Students at NorthWood are required to take three years of English. Seniors may take either college prep or general English. Speech and drama may be taken during the junior or senior year. In English classes students have an opportunity for self-expression. Plays, group discussions and themes offer a variety of activities to the English student.

Studies Help Students Discover Other Countries

Students at NorthWood High School have a choice of two foreign languages. It is possible to take both German and Spanish for four years. There are many benefits in taking a foreign language. Besides learning a new language, students who take German or Spanish also learn about the cultures of these countries. The Spanish classes listened to fairy tales and other stories to aid with their learning of the Spanish language. Advanced German students used their knowledge of German to make a movie.

Social Studies Expand Student's World

NorthWood students are required to take several courses in social studies. Freshmen are required to take civics, juniors take U.S. History, and seniors must take economics and government. Electives in social studies are world history, psychology and sociology. Social studies help students learn about the world and may give them a new view of world events.

Physical Education Builds

Physical Education is an important part of a student's education. Every student is required to take two years of physical education. Juniors and seniors may take advanced classes. Physical education offers participation in a large variety of sports. Basketball and volleyball give the students a chance to participate in team sports, while individual effort is stressed in gymnastics and track. Physical education offers something for everyone.

Strong Bodies

Students Learn to Drive

Students who are fifteen or older may take drivers' training. This is not a regular course, so students must pay $20 to take the course. Drivers' education may be taken in the summer or during the school year. Drivers' training is a necessary course for anyone who plans to drive.

Goldenaires Travel to Canada

Choirs Develop Musical Talent

Under the direction of Mr. Heckaman, the high school choirs presented outstanding performances throughout the year. The four choirs combined their talents in giving the annual Christmas concert. On May 10, 11, and 12 the spring concert was presented.

Many individuals and ensembles competed in the Solo and Ensemble Contest.

Goldenaires kept a busy schedule this year. Besides practicing several nights a week, they held many performances throughout the year. Highlights in their schedule included singing for area clubs and traveling to Indianapolis for a Kiwanis convention. As the result of an audition, the group was privileged to travel to Montreal, Quebec, Canada, in June for the Kiwanis International Convention.

Industrial Arts Offer

The industrial arts department at NorthWood offers a large variety of classes. Freshmen may take woodworking I and mechanical drawing. Sophomores may take second year woodworking or mechanical drawing, or they may take basic metal and electricity. Juniors may take woodworking III, architectural drawing I, electronics, graphic arts, building trades, machine shop I, auto mechanics I, or mechanical drawing III. Machine shop II and auto mechanics are open to seniors. Students participating in advanced classes learn many things which will enable them to get a better job after graduation. Basic courses teach students things that are handy to know in everyday life.

Practical Applications

Students Explore Art Field

Students developed abilities in sketching, drawing, painting, crafts and graphic arts. Different techniques in various media were explored with emphasis on self-discipline in application so as to attain some mastery of creative expression. Advanced art students had a choice of taking painting & print or ceramics & crafts.

Business Department Offers Wide Variety

NorthWood students may take a wide range of business courses. General business will give the student a practical background in business, while a student taking more advanced business courses may learn enough skills to get a good job after graduation. Courses offered in the business department are general business, typing I and II, shorthand I and II, business machines, office practice, and bookkeeping.

Math and Science Offer Challenges to Student

Math and science are becoming more and more important in the world today, and students at NorthWood have the opportunity to take four years of both science and math. College bound students may take algebra, geometry, Algebra II, and math IV. Seniors and freshmen may take practical math.

Science courses offered at NorthWood are biology, chemistry, Physics, and biology II and chemistry II. These courses help students understand the complex nature of the world today.

Mini-Courses Give Break

Mini-Course Week was an exciting one at Northwood. Students were able to forget about their usual courses for three days. During these days, the students took courses that they were interested in. Some offered courses included Tennis, Fondue, Hair Styling, Wilderness Survival, and Euchre. Many students, as well as individuals from the community, helped teach.

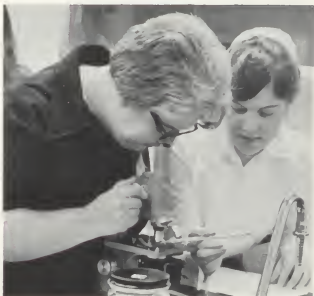

To School Monotony

F.T.A. Sponsors First Swap Day

S.W.A.P. Day was something new added to the program at NorthWood this year. The FTA acted as guides as the confused parents tried to find their way from class to class. S.W.A.P. Day was intended to give parents and other interested adults an idea of what the students go through every day. Of course, S.W.A.P. Day was not an average school day, but the adults did get an idea of what actually occurs in NorthWood everyday. S.W.A.P. Day was enjoyed by both the adults and the students as a refreshing change in the routine of the school day.

Seniors Strive to Complete Goals

Seniors count the days until graduation, disperse old traditions and buy blue announcements, try to guess the theme of the prom, write their final papers with joy, take Government and Economics, are measured for caps and gowns, buy their own yearbooks, wear callouses on their fingers from typing their term papers, use the surge areas to discuss the latest news, take an active role in the voting community, argue their political views, talk about another senior party, exchange graduation pictures and cards, and still cry at graduation.

Students Achieve Knowledge

Outside of Class

A "Typical" Senior's Day

A typical senior crawls out of bed at 6:30. After his breakfast, he is ready to face the day. First period finds him eager and waiting to answer any teacher's question. Rather than risk being late to any class, he carries all of his books to each class. Of course, they are so heavy that he takes six minutes to walk there. After a long hard lunch hour, the afternoon goes quickly. Soon it is time to return home to his little desk and complete his homework. Schoolwork is not the only thing he has to look forward to as there is a long basketball season to cheer the team.

Gregory L. Scheet
1955-1971

The Road Not Taken

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
To where it bent in the undergrowth:

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And leaving perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sign
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

Robert Frost

At the beginning of the year there seems to be a new feeling of freedom as the juniors begin their two years as upperclassmen. Juniors are quite willing to take up the new responsibilities that come with being older, and taking courses that are more suited to their individual preferences. Junior activities begin with the hysterics of selling magazines, certain members of the class meeting with more success than others. Another major money-raising project involves selling concessions at every home basketball game. A highlight of the year is looking forward to the prom, with all the headaches of planning an evening to be remembered.

Sophomores Struggle for Upperclassmanship

Sophomores renew old friendships and make new friends, happily order class rings in spite of one misplaced ring, enjoy no longer being the youngest, learn how to dissect frogs and bisect angles, take another year of English and P. E., laugh at the latest joke in the surge areas, put another proof on the board, learn how not to drive off the pavement in Driver's Education, use Honor Study Hall to perfect paper airplanes and play ping pong, and look forward to upperclass privileges.

Each has come to the end of one step. Each is reaching for his place. Each has met some problems and disappointments, but in the end all has been worth the effort. Trials became new knowledge gained. Disappointments brought unthought-of joys. All are ready to lead onward and upward.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of older people, and the need to ensure that the health care system is able to meet the needs of older people. The Department of Health (1999) has identified the need to develop services to meet the needs of older people, and the need to ensure that the health care system is able to meet the needs of older people.

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1996). The prevalence of schizophrenia is estimated to be 1% of the population (Meltzer 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1994) has set out a vision of a new mental health service, one that is more user-centred, more effective, more efficient and more cost-effective. The vision is based on the principles of recovery, self-help, self-reliance, self-respect, self-fulfilment and self-empowerment. The vision is based on the belief that people with mental health problems can lead a full and meaningful life.
